Dear Alvah,

Maine Kayak's mid coast location features all of the best that Maine has to offer - beautiful and varied ocean paddling conditions, quaint coastal cottage or bed and breakfast lodging packages, and a delicious lobster lunch on our full-day paddling trips. Situated half-way between the popular town of Freeport and the coastal gem of Rockland, the Pemaquid Peninsula separates Pemaquid Harbor and Johns Bay to the west, where Maine Kayak hosts its 2-hour and half-day tours and multi-day Inn to Inn trips, and Muscongus Bay to the east, where Maine Kayak runs its full-day and island camping overnight trips, to provide the best of what the Maine coast is famous for - quiet pocket sand beaches; rocky, craggy shorelines; uninhabited forested islands; and working waterfronts lined with quaint cottages and moored lobster boats.

Come experience kayaking in these two stunning and different paddling environments and let us plan your coastal vacation with an overnight stay in quaint seaside cottages or luxurious coastal bed and breakfasts.

Our trips are offered 7 days a week from May - October.

Two Bays in Two Days Package

Maine Kayak offers the best of the Pemaquid Peninsula with our Two Bays in Two Days Package!

Day One will feature a full day of paddling, approximately 6 hours on the water, in beautiful Muscongus Bay. We will learn basic skills and paddle in the morning along the Maine Island Trail and take a break for a real Maine lobster lunch. The remainder of the afternoon will be spent discovering secluded coves and sheltered bays, paddling around wild rock islands, and exploring wildlife-abundant estuaries.

Day Two provides a full-days of paddling in John's Bay. Our paddling adventure takes full advantage of the sheltered harbors and deep bays of the Maine coast to provide approximately 6 hours of sea kayaking bliss. We'll launch at Colonial Pemaquid State Park and paddle a chain of islands in Johns Bay call the "Thread of Life". We will enjoy a picnic lunch on a coastal island beach before returning back to our starting point through a tidal river system.

Your trip also includes two nights accommodations at Sea Acres Cottages, located a stone's throw from our kayak base and convenient to the attractions and restaurants of the Pemaquid Peninsula.

The total package price is $348 including two nights lodging (double occupancy), two full-day of kayaking, lunch on both days, and all equipment and paddling gear. Note that trips may be offered in reverse order depending on availability.
